Stores basic data (name, address, dob, gender, email, fax, logo, url, etc.) about customers of your company. The data is displayed in a clear, color-coded, tabbed-style layout with easily accessible controls on the screen. You can enter data by simply dragging-dropping rows from a list into the database. In our experience, the Customer Info Manager Pro is the most flexible and competent software available for generating customized reports. It has a graphical user interface. The menus are logically arranged, the software is easy to use, and there is a lot to do. In addition, the application offers a huge array of tools, such as pre-defined business categories, customizable company names, multi-select company names, and so on. The most remarkable feature is the possibility to generate customized reports. You can select the required criteria and obtain the data you want, which will be displayed in a tabular form. Compared to other system you might have already tried, Customer Info Manager Pro is more reliable and works efficiently. Customer Info Manager Pro, the ultimate reporting solution, is the right choice for generating custom reports. Besides, the program is able to fulfill more detailed business needs. The application helps you generate customizable reports. The most amazing feature is the possibility to select the required criteria so that you can obtain the data you want. It allows you to export the report into RTF or PDF file formats in a few seconds and share it with others. Customers' experience All things considered, Customer Info Manager Pro outperforms other solutions that we have tried. We had no problems with the application when we moved from 3.5 to 4 GB of RAM. In addition, Customer Info Manager Pro works flawlessly with other Microsoft products. Also, it is reliable and easy to use. We particularly like the fact that the application enables you to determine the export option you want (RTF or
